Press Release

AXOLUTE SP Project (SP11 and SP6) - Design by Marco Casagrande

AXOLUTE design has always been focused on space optimisation. In this respect, SP11 is a "multifunctional piece of bathroom furniture": a round washbasin integrated in a large counter top with elongated slot-shaped towel-holder.

Specially inclined base allows water to flow through the drain outlet arranged along the perimeter walls of the washbasin. Like all of AXOLUTE's washbasin, SP11 is equipped with the patented HIS® Horizontal Integrated Siphon, accessible for inspection from the bottom side. Wall installation kit is included in the supply.

With SP11 the round shape makes its first appearance in AXOLUTE bathroom product range. Design turns to softer lines, as in a more discreet approach to the user's privacy in the most intimate room of the house.

The designer Marco Casagrande, who conceived the SP11 washbasin, has been inspired by the concept "to bring back individual needs to the centre of the project". The designer intended to achieve a very usable, durable and at the same time fashionable item, that was more space-saving, versatile and complementary to his existing decor.

SP11 is supplied with installation kit for rapid and accurate assembly.

SP11 is part of the SP Project for the planning and development of multifunctional furnishings with integrated washbasin. SP is a work-in-progress project subject to additions and extensions.

Currently SP Project includes the SP11-C vanity unit with integrated washbasin in DuPont™ Corian® Glacier White, the version SP11-A in white lacquered steel with open shelf and the SP6-A variant with a reduced height of 6 cm, in white lacquered steel.
